

Business Analyst

Certasun is the #1-rated residential solar company in Illinois and we are having our best year ever. We have an outstanding reputation for our consultative sales experience, ethics, workmanship, and equipment.

We are seeking a business analyst to work directly with our senior executives in support of our most strategic initiatives. These may include, for example, analysis and optimization of marketing channels, sales performance management, process optimization, supply chain strategy, or new business initiatives.

After conducting rigorous analysis and making recommendations, you will likely be tasked with implementing your recommendations and measuring the results.

Candidates should expect to work from our headquarters in Buffalo Grove, Illinois Tuesday through Thursday. Monday and Friday could be either remote or in-office.

Responsibilities

- Break large questions into a series of smaller, more tractable questions
- Gather data and conduct analysis. Develop clear recommendations.
- Work together with colleagues in various departments to come up with the best answers and real-world solutions.
- Communicate in a structured way with our senior management team.
- Implement solutions and be a business leader for new initiatives.

Desired Qualifications

- Undergraduate degree from a top-tier university with majors or concentrations that suggest skill at both left-brain analytics and right-brain qualitative work.
- Expertise with Salesforce, Excel, PowerPoint, data analytics software, or computer programming a definite plus
- Enthusiastic about solar and renewable energy
- Authorized to work in the United States for any employer (required)

Pay & Benefits

- Competitive salary typical for business analyst or consulting associate
- Full benefits package including medical insurance, 401(k) with company matching, etc.
